Programme Overview:

The General Application Regulations 2007 require employers to

- Ensure that the general use of equipment is not a source of risk for the employee and
- Perform an analysis of workstations in order to evaluate the safety and health conditions to which it gives rise for employees, particularly as regards possible risks to eyesight, physical problems and problems of mental stress and, on the basis of that evaluation, take appropriate measures to remedy any risks found.

These duties include the employee's workspace where employees are required to work from home.

Learn how to carry out Display Screen Equipment/Visual Display Unit Ergonomic Assessments within your workplace and understand the scope of the legal requirements relating to the use of DSE, including the risk assessment steps to be taken in relation to home workers.

Programme Content:

Health & Safety Legislation
General Application Regulations 2007
Ergonomic Principals
Workstation and Workplace Design and Layout
Posture and Anthropometrics
Identifying Hazards of DSE/VDU work
Assessment Techniques and Checklists
DSE/VDU Homeworking Risk Assessment

Approach:

The programme is delivered online by experienced IBEC Executives who provide members with advice, consultancy and training on a daily basis. Programme participants are encouraged to express their views and experiences. The programme facilitates participant discussion to ensure a thorough understanding of the key points and their application. Real life case studies and exercises will be used to ensure a real practical understanding of each topic.
